cubic spline fitting to fet voltage-current characteristics - we get the smoothing spline by minimizing the following functional [3]: (4) where n is the number of measurements, z_i are the measurements, $i = 1, \dots, n$, and $p > 0$ is the smoothing parameter. it is clear that the smaller p , the closer the function that minimizes (4) passes to the set values z_i . we substitute (3) index of authors (with titles) for the year 2000, vol. 42 - index of authors (with titles) for the year 2000, vol. 42 abramova z. i., vinter v. g. electron microscope study of neutral mn^{2+} -dependent dnase locali- ... anakina r. p., drozdov a.
